

RENEW HEALTH LTD WINNER OF EMERGING MEDTECH COMPANY OF THE YEAR AT 11TH MEDTECH AWARDS

Athlone, Ireland, 12th December 2017, Renew Health Ltd (Renew Health), a connected health medtech company, announced that it won the Emerging Medtech Company of the Year award at the 11th Medtech Awards event which took place in Galway, Ireland last Thursday night.

"I am delighted, on behalf of Renew Health, to accept this emerging medtech of the year award", said Declan Cassells, MD of Renew Health Ltd. "Since we established ourselves in Ireland in November 2014, we have built a great commercial enterprise in Europe with a growing portfolio of emerging disruptive products for the healthcare space" he continued.

This year, Renew Health expanded its commercial reach of its CerezenTM product beyond the UK and Ireland to continental Europe. The product, indicated for those who suffer from jaw pain associated with Temporomandibular Disorder (TMD), is sold to dentists as a unique and effective treatment solution for TMD. Also in the Renew Health portfolio is the RenewTM Enhanced Circulation Product, which in early launch phase in UK. As we progress through 2018, we plan to further launch this very exciting product into the market, to reach those who are seeking to proactively manage and improve their health and wellness.

Further this year, Renew Health acquired, the Belfast based company, Intelesens, which has a portfolio of wireless vital signs monitoring products for hospital and home care use, including the ZensorTM product which allows for the detection of Atrial Fibrillation in patients. These products, together with others in its portfolio, will help expand Renew Health's reach to make available pioneering technologies and solutions that will improve patients' lives.

"We look forward to building on the success of 2017 as we expand the reach of our product portfolio in 2018", Declan commented upon receipt of the award. "A special thanks to our customers and staff for making 2017 such a great success for Renew Health. We look forward to launching many more products onto the market over the next few years in Europe, particularly those in the connected healthcare space".

Almost 500 Medtech business leaders gathered in Galway for the 11th Irish Medtech Awards. Renew Health won the prestigious Emerging Medtech Company of the year award at the event which took place on last night in the Radisson Blu Hotel, Galway. The event was part of the two day Medtech CEO Forum, hosted by the Irish Medtech Association, Enterprise Ireland, and IDA Ireland.

About Renew Health Ltd

Renew Health Limited (Renew), a connected health medtech company was established in 2014 in Ireland by founders who have a vision to discover, develop and commercialise pioneering technologies and solutions to make lives better. Part of the International Renew Group, it is based in the IDA business park in Garrycastle in Athlone. Renew is committed to delivering exciting healthcare solutions, particularly in the area of connected health. Its portfolio of products include CerezenTM, RenewTM Enhanced Circulation, ZensorTM and AingealTM products. Entrepreneur, and philanthropist and founder of The Renew Group, Manoj Bhargava, has pledged 99% of his fortune to initiatives that will make a difference through the 'Billions of Change' movement which aims to build a better future for the global population through innovation in pure water, accessible energy and advanced healthcare.

For more information on Renew Health, please go to: <http://renewhealthlimited.com/>.

ENDS

For further information contact:

Fidelma Callanan, European Head of Marketing, Renew Health Ltd, Athlone, Co Westmeath, Ireland
T: +353 87 186 3688, +353 906465499; E: fidelma.callanan@renewgroup.eu

CerezenTM and RenewTM are trademarks of Renew Health Ltd
ZensorTM and AingealTM are trademarks of Intelesens Ltd

Renew Health Limited,

IDA Business & Technology Park, Garrycastle, Dublin Rd, Athlone, Co Westmeath, N37 F786, Ireland.

T: +353 90 646 5499 www.renewhealthlimited.com

Directors: Manoj Bhargava, Indu Rawat, Ravinder Sajwan, Declan Cassells. Company Number: 545908